

Miners and the Daily-Judge

Strike Shows Ore Is of an Excellent Shipping Grade.

Some idea of the richness of the ore encountered by the recent strike at the Daily-Judge can be gleaned from the assays made. Manager George L. Lambourn returned yesterday from Park City, where he spent Sunday and Labor Day inspecting the work now being done. Up to a late hour last night it was understood that the winze off the 1,400-foot level in which the strike was made continues to be in, and that it is apparently getting stronger. As yet no definite idea of the extent of the ore body has been gained, and only the future development work will tell. Mr. Lambourn declares that although the strike looks excellent and the possibilities are great, it is not a proven ore body yet.

It will probably be several weeks before the ore body will be explored sufficiently to decide as to its permanency and extent. The work will continue in the winze, which is now down a distance of over seventy-six feet and has feet of the ore exposed. The winze will be sent down to connect up with the 1,500 foot level. This work will be of triple value, inasmuch as it will afford good drainage, lessen the cost of extraction, and give better ventilation.

The first ore that was found in the winze was from the quartzite which was found after the winze had gone through the time. An assay of the first ore found showed 19.8 per cent lead, 15.2 ounces in silver, 4 per cent copper and 37.3 per cent zinc. The high values in lead and silver led the management to believe that the ore would be better.

The first mine car of ore taken from the strike averaged 23 per cent lead, 29 ounces in silver, and 24 per cent zinc. The average across three and a half feet of the ore ran 23.6 per cent lead, 55.1 ounces in silver, 2.9 per cent copper and 35.2 per cent zinc.

A sample taken from the side of the winze nearest the back vein, which is believed to make up the bulk of the ore in which the ore was found, showed 31.7 per cent lead, 66.4 per cent silver, 4.1 per cent copper and 24.2 per cent zinc.

Black Bird Will Use Core Drill

Believe Shaft Has Struck the Ontario Quartzite Formation.

For the first time in the history of Beaver county a core drill is to be used. At the headquarters of the Black Bird Copper-Gold Mining company, limited, it has been learned that a core drill and three experienced drill men are now on the road from the east to begin work on the Black Bird property. The Black Bird properties are in the San Francisco mining district, Beaver county, and adjoin the Newhouse mine. The control of the properties is held by John E. DuBois of DuBois, Pa., and associates. For the past two years the property has remained idle. Recently it was decided to continue prospecting the property and with that end in view it was decided to use a core drill. It is said that the work will be well under way before the week is over.

A temporary reservoir is to be built at the property, and a pipe line put in to carry the water from the spring. Manager E. S. Lehman says that this will be finished up within two weeks and will furnish an adequate supply of water to the property.

The drill is to be used to prospect the line granite contact and holes of various depths. The Black Bird company owns in the neighborhood of 100 claims in the district and at present time are conducting talk of this and the Nevada-Utah property in the vicinity being annexed to the Newhouse properties. At the New York shaft on the property there has been sent down a distance of 300 feet. There also another 275-foot shaft on the property. Considerable underground work has been done with more or less success.

John E. DuBois is president of the company, Charles J. North of Buffalo is vice president and Fred Frick of Salt Lake is secretary.

SACKING MUCH ORE AT SILVER ISLAND

The management of the Silver Island Mines Coalition believes that it has now found the richest ore in the district. The ore has been found at the property at various times. Some large boulders spattered with galena have been found ever since the present owners of the property took it over they have been searching for the vein. It is now believed that the ore is better than they have been searching for. It has been named the Desert View vein.

According to Murray E. King the miners are now sacking ore at four places on the property and the sacking is being done at the rate of about fifteen sacks a day. Already 300 sacks of high grade ore have been taken out and are now on the dump. Within the next few weeks it is expected that a $5,000 shipment of ore will be ready for the market. Ever since the property was taken over it is believed that it has been better than paying for itself.

Four more miners were sent out to the property yesterday in addition to the eight men now employed there. The interests behind the property declare that the ore that is now being extracted will twice over pay the current expenses so that a surplus can be accumulated for future development work.

Ore at Samplers.

Ore receipts, by carloads, reported yesterday by the samplers: Taylor-Utah, 9; Nevada, 1; Pioneer-Utah, 9; Nevada, 1; Pioneer-Utah, 9; Nevada, 1.

Stocks ARE ACTIVE AND STRONGER

Market Shows Some Improvement, With Prices Still Low.

Stocks were quite active on the local exchange yesterday, with prices still low. There was a better tone shown throughout the day, which might foretell of a better week than was had last week. There were a number of orders in to buy and sell Daily-Judge, but the brokers could not get together with the price at $5.00 bid and $5.50 asked. No one seemed willing to take chances on the stock.

Ruloff sold as low as 14c yesterday. Colorado was strong, with no change in the price. Columbus Consolidated was remarkably low and sold at the low mark of 1/2c.

The total number of shares disposed of yesterday was 8,518, while the amount represented by the transactions was $41,154.75.

Will Sink Shaft.

Upon the advice of Mr. Walsh the company has decided to sink a shaft at the intersection of the two large fissures that traverse the property. The two fissures run in a north and south direction. The width of the veins is declared to vary from three to five feet. The fissures are cut by an east and west fault, and the intersection of these two faults is where the shaft is to be sunk. The shaft is to be sunk to a depth of 300 feet, and it is believed that the shaft will strike the ore body. The shaft is to be sunk by the use of a core drill.

Machinery on Road.

The Utah Lead company, which is one of the largest organizations in the field, has a large plant of machinery on the road and it should be installed shortly. The equipment includes among other things a forty-five horse-power engine and two sixty horse-power boilers. The company has from twelve to fifteen feet of carbonate ore in its tunnel.

At the Iron Mack property, which is owned by practically the same people as the Little Butte, there is an iron ledge that runs the entire length of the property. The property lies between the Utah Lead and the Tecoma. The company has a tunnel now in the workings but 100 feet more to reach the ore body. It is believed that the company has a number of promising veins of silver and lead, and quite a body of wolframite has been encountered.

Ore and Bullion.

Smelter settlements yesterday, as reported by W. S. McCormick & Co.:
Ores, $50,000; bullion, $40,000.
Silver was quoted at $14.40.

Issue Taken Up

Ray Consolidated Interests Absorb All the New Stock Issued.

The rights of the stockholders of the Ray Consolidated Copper company to take up the new issue of stock under the agreement expired yesterday and the entire issue of 200,000 shares at $14 a share was taken up. This leaves nothing for the underwriters to take care of.

Several weeks ago the company announced that it would give the stockholders the first chance at taking up the new issue of 200,000 shares of stock. At the same time the bonds held by the stockholders were being converted into stock. At that time the company had a bond indebtedness of $5,000,000. The bondholders showed their confidence in the company by converting $2,500,000 worth of the bonds into stock.

Long before the rights of the stockholders to take up the stock of the company expired the entire issue had been subscribed for. Underwriting of the bonds had been bid for, but by the time the day was over it was found unnecessary for the company to call on the underwriters.

D. C. Jackling, vice president and general manager of the Ray Consolidated company, is at present at the mine at Kelly, Ariz. With the present from the stockholders in the conversion of the bonds into stock it is believed that the new mill at the property will be grinding on ore by the first of the year. It has been known for some time that the company intends to put in a smelter at Kelly. This will not only be used for the company's own ore, but will also be used to treat custom ore.

It is reported from the property that the new shaft, which will be able to care for 3,000 tons of ore every twenty-four hours, is going down in excellent shape, and within a few months more will be ready to handle its full capacity.

HEINTZ SAYS EAST IS LOOKING PROSPEROUS

"Everything looks prosperous enough in the east for plenty of good times," declared Manager George W. Heintz of the United States Smelting, Refining & Mining company yesterday, after returning from a month spent in the east entering into the new lag house that is to be built at the property. He declared that it was a good lively interest in all good legitimate mining propositions.

Mr. Heintz declared that he had not heard of any one who was not working on the property. He declared that he had not heard of any one who was not working on the property. He declared that he had not heard of any one who was not working on the property.
